D E D I C A T I O N

With sincere gratitude and deepest appreciation, we, the class of 1951, do humbly dedicate our book to the service men fighting throughout the world for democracy.

Of all times, this is the time to hold high our expectations and believe that out of the world's agony will come a better world.

"Men, keep your faith wherever you may stand
It is your armor if on sea or land;
It is your sword, your buckler and God's hand.

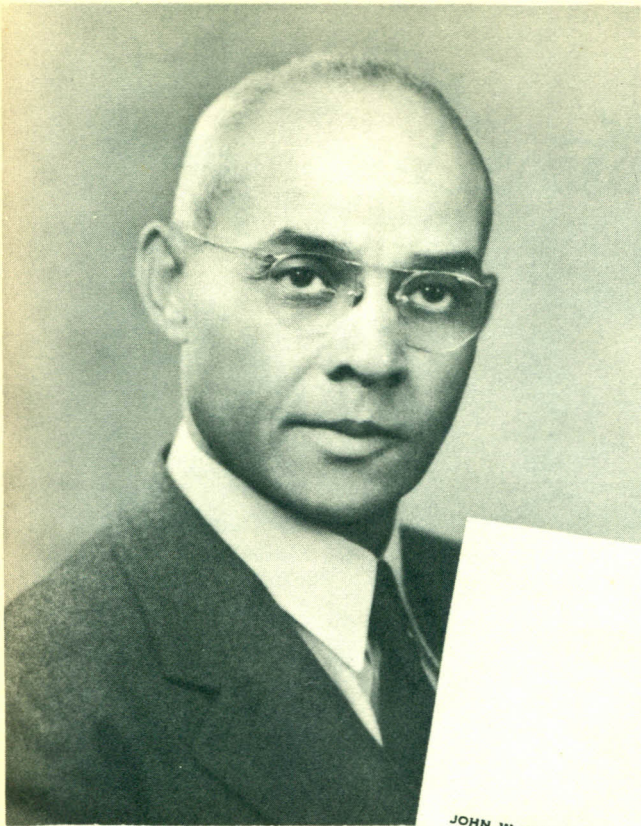

"Yes, keep your faith whatever be the way
However fearful, loathsome be the fray,
And there will come, be sure, a brighter day."

CLASS MOTTO: He who is brave will dare, but he who is wise will count first the cost.

TO OUR ALMA MATER

Though the years bring happiness and sorrow
and regret,
There is one place within our hearts we never shall forget.
Beneath the mountains and the sky within a valley
wide,
Our Alma Mater proudly stands with knowledge as her guide.

'Twas here we learned of many things,
And shed some bitter tears,
And wondered how we would survive,
Throughout four wretched years.

But now that time has seen us through,
And now that we have passed,
And now that we have found what we were seeking for at last...

Though the years bring happiness and sorrow and regret,
It's you, dear West Virginia State, we never shall forget.

--Thomasina Anderson

CLASS HISTORY

Arriving by train, car and bus in September 1947, we were not as hospitably received as those who have followed us. This was due to the fact that we had not as yet initiated our social policies and reforms on our fellow "Staters."

Although the wintry blasts of '47 unfolded its furor and chilled aspirations of many of our fellow comrades, the class of '47 possessing the stamina of Washington at Valley Forge, emerged triumphantly.

We were very fortunate to have a very versatile leader in '47. Wayne Robertson, our first president, kept the wheels of progress turning throughout the year.

He was equipped with a broad educational background which made him a strong executive and helped him solve the many problems of a new college life. Wayne served well and effectively until his term of office expired in June '48.

In September '48 we arrived once again - some with mustaches, beards and "the new look." We felt a slight air of supremacy having passed our first ordeal, freshman year, successfully. We centered our attention on sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance under the very capable leadership of our President Alonzo Grigsby. Many a heavy obstacle faced us as we tried to uphold the title of "sophomore" (or wise fool). Under the careful guidance of Mr. Grigsby, we emerged a milestone of West Virginia State College.

"Two up and two to go", was on each and every mind as we once again tackled College. Now the fight was getting savage and it was a case of struggle for survival. The quarterback needed to lead us now must possess stamina and stability and backbone. We found such a man in the person of Bernard Minter who diligently and successfully led us through our junior year.

During the summer of '50 we were brought the message, "U.S. at war in Korea." This stopped a heart beat momentarily within our bodies. Would we be able to finish college after three hard years of toil and sweat? Would our educational benefits be of value to help end this conflict? These and numerous questions ran through our minds daily and yet we defied all and arrived once more to do or die. With heavy hearts and strong wills we formed a mutual bond with the world to conquer and survive.

"Hustle and bustle" became our watchword; and our motto: "He who is brave will dare; but he who is wise will count first the cost." We once again replaced the oil in our machinery of progress by electing Willis Glenn, President. Headaches, toils, and loose screws and bolts faced President Glenn before he found a capable cabinet to help him correlate his problems. Glenn was fortunate in having a competent administration consisting of Paul Redden, Vice President; William Thompson, Secretary; Samuel Miller, Treasurer and Dr. Fannin Belcher, Faculty Advisor. The yearbook was our next biggest stumbling block, but under the auspices of an efficient staff, we emerged with the best yearbook ever produced at West Virginia State College.

Now our mission has been accomplished and we are ready to face the world of conflict. Our barriers will be numerous but with warm hearts and profound understanding, we, the Class of 1951, will set new precedents and create new horizons.

KINSEY HELPLESS AFTER BAD BEATING BY SLIM CHAMP

BY WILLIS GLENN

INSTITUTE—Jo Anne Smith stripped groggy and bewildered Shirley Kinsey of her wrestling title tonite. The fight was a hair-pulling tussle from the opening gong. Smith was swift and tricky and once again youth and stamia outlasted age and experience. Time and time again they clawed scratched, hugged and pulled hair driving the 40000 fans in hysterical laughs and cheers. Miss Smith at tributes her success to Hadacol and Miss Kinsey remained silent.

Referee Juanita Kydd introduced the prominent patrons before the fight. They included Major and Mrs. Dorothy Bristow, Dr. and Mrs. Georgia Pinkard, Rev. and Mrs. Adelaide Parks and Hon. William H. Thompson and his newly wed wife, (the former Revella Cardwell), who were honey mooning in Institute for three months before his re turning to his new position as Dean of West Virginia State College.

TWO CHICAGO BEAR VETS SIGN FOR 1960

CHICAGO--Two more veterans of the Chicago Bears today returned, signed contracts for 1960 reducing the list of unsigned of the total of three including the best back the Bears have had since Joe Gilliam, Oliver Ellis. The latest signers were Jerry Williams, center, and Curtis Quarterman, water boy.

CHERRY'S GIRLS ARE BEATEN

MICH.--Cherry's girls lost their first game to night as Julia Ligons' "Wreckers" clipped them 40-8. This places a tie between Cherry's team and Sara Choate's "Bats". Billie (Perry) Clay's "Jets" played Liz Coleman's "Smashers" in the preliminary game and despite the call of the ambulance three times, Billie Clay's team won by the score of 9-2. The feature of this show was Amelda Welford Graves and her husband Al who were staunch rooters for Liz's "Smashers". Incidentally, Mrs. Clay is expecting a new member to her team in September according to the latest report from Dr. Iris Dubose.

THE AMERICAS UNITED

ATLANTIC CITY--Annie J. Jones, a former graduate of W. Va. State College, was voted "Miss America" for 1960 in a close decision by the judges. She will soon be married to Claude McCain who was runner up for "Mr. America" Nice way to keep the Americas united.

WELLS WINS SHOTPUT TITLE

CHICKENSWITCH, GA. "Big Dick" Wells when interviewed in his sharp white 1960 Cadillac by Fal Jones after pushing the shotput 80 feet said, "I hope to throw the little ball 100 feet tomorrow." His nearest competitor, Sam Miller was in despair because he was recorded as pushing the shotput 79 feet 11½ inches only to be nullified by the judge James Davis because of a foul. Incidentally, Sam said he was nervous because last nite his wife, formerly Blanch Evans, had quintuplets, --the smallest of which weighed 12½ lbs. The latest report is that she is resting comfortably. When questioned she said, "Just my lucky night again."

FLASH

Rosemary Carter '51

Our Al-ma Ma-ter is a Mem-o-ry---That will al-ways lin-ger ---And we'll al-ways re-mem-ber West Vir-gin-ia State---The hon-ors and the glories that we've strove to win here--Will be with us al-ways---In our mem---o---ries.---The par-ties and the games we played the friends that we knew-The joys we found our four years here with you-----hum---hum.

And so now we must leave you--But our hearts can say now---we are true-ly thank-ful: West Vir-gin-ia State.
