... "THE ARCH" to our competent, cooperative and efficient advisor, Dr. Fannin S. Belcher, Jr., for his conscientious guidance. He has been our co-pilot and in his own untiring way has steered us safely over our various obstacles. Many fond memories of him accompany us as we pass through "THE ARCH."

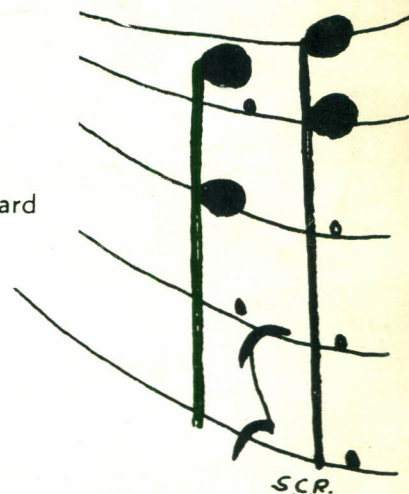

CLASS SONG

Within dear Alma Mater we have striven
So hard to seek our aims throughout these days
Our lives were hard, our minds and souls were driven
On paths of hope, our chosen ways.
A ray of light comes forth to hail our fate
And crown us as the Class of '48.

We'll Ne'er forget the days we hold as dearest
They'll e'er remind us of our noble State.
For in our hearts, we'll love thee our sincerest
And in our minds, you'll hold the highest place.
But as we leave, we question one and all,
We have set sail, where shall our anchor fall?

MARTHA SPENCER '31

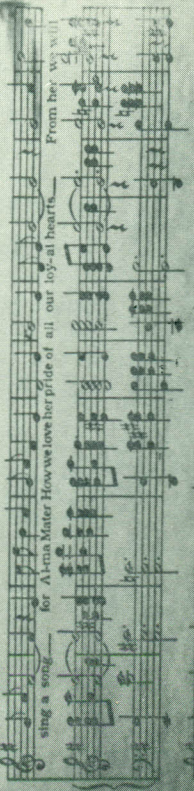

There is a place we love so dear
 Its name we'll ever praise and revere — 'Tis West Vir-gin-ia

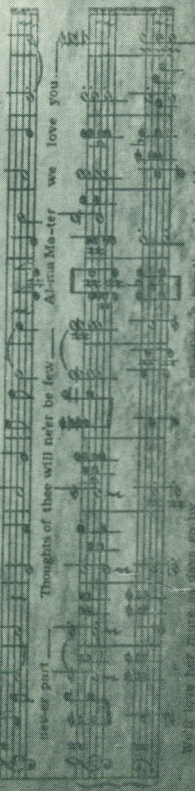

State we love
 Just one more step from there is heav'n a - bove.

Let us sing —
 Lift our voices all heaven-ly long —
 As we gal - ly march a - long — We'll sing a song — for Alma Mater How we love her pride of all our loyal hearts —

 From her we will never part —

 Thoughts of these will ne'er be fey — Alma Ma-ter we love you —

We'll love her more and more as we grow old
 For she's the place where we were born and bred
 And here her love will be our guide and our aid
 And here her love will be our guide and our aid

A Campus Landmark

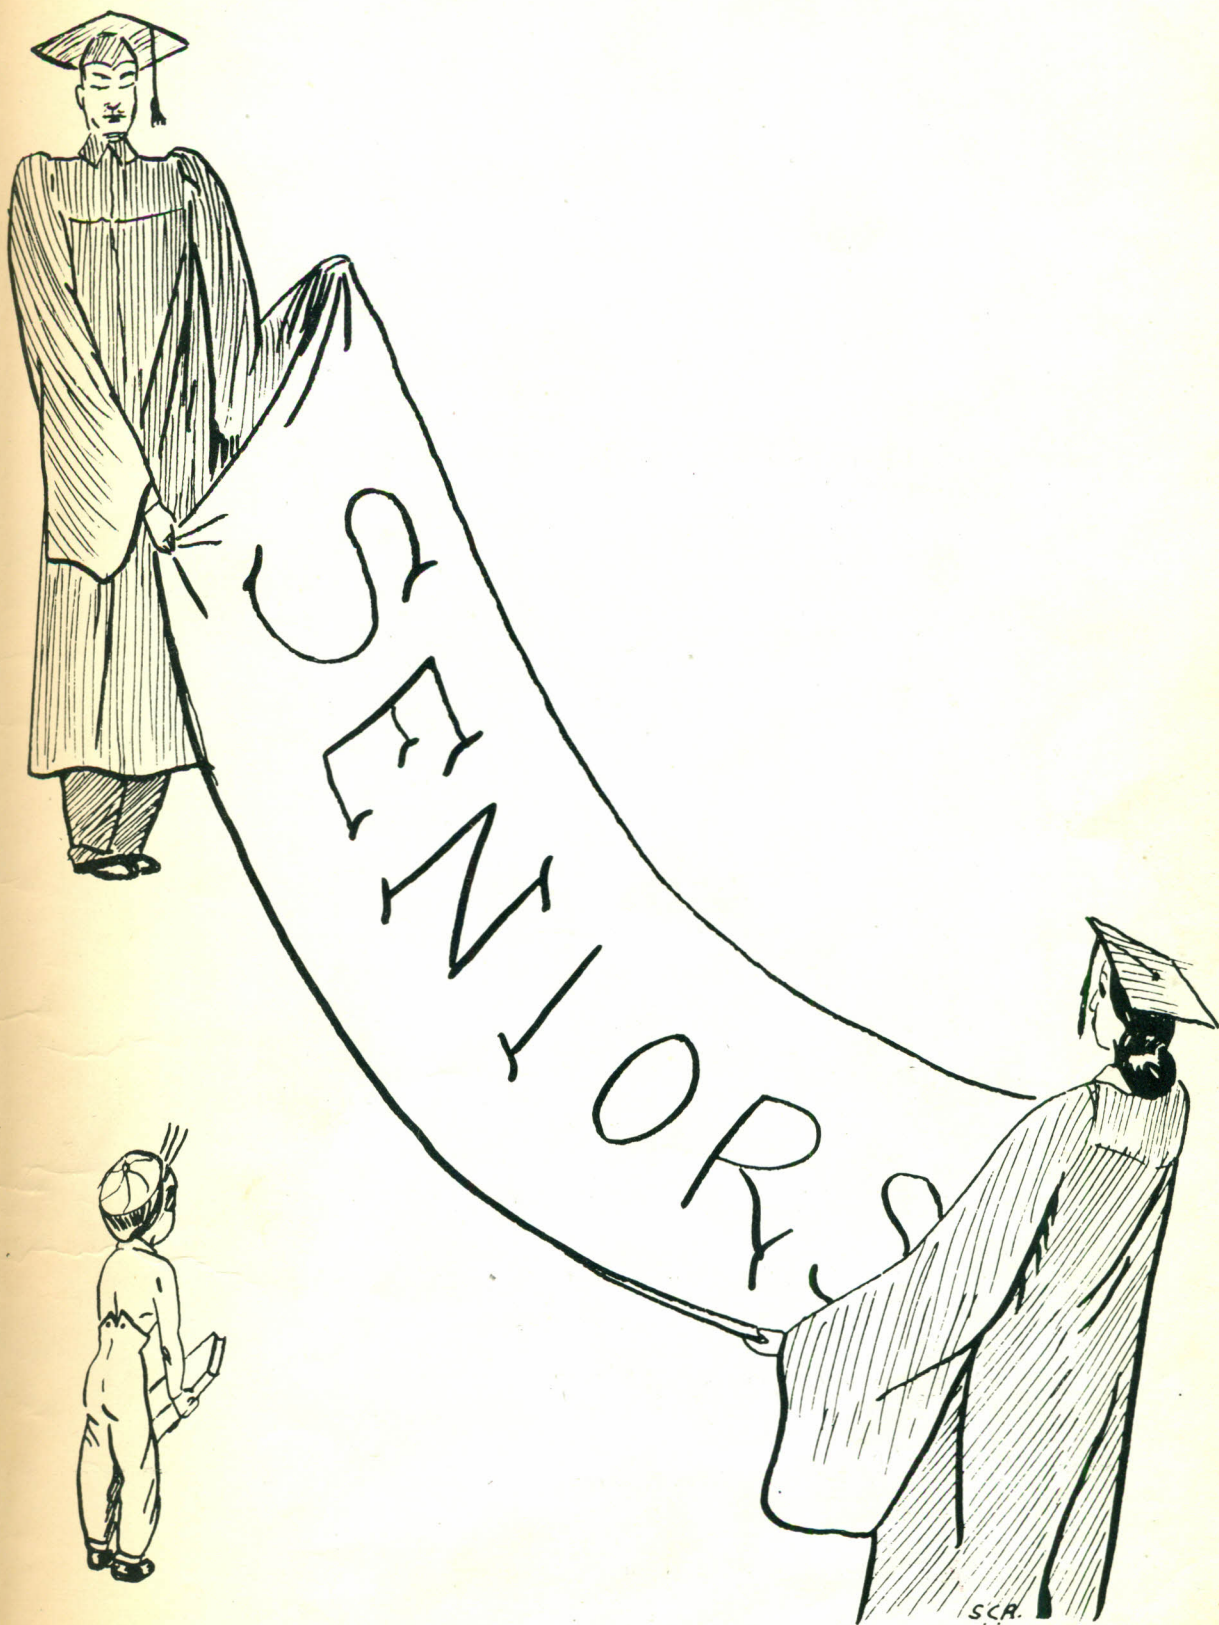

O tall and stately Tree,
When the beams of the sun's smile are most direct,
Man seeks your shadow with its
Windlets clear and still for comfort,
And feathered tourists make their home
In your outstretched arms.

With the coming of fall,
You are still sought out by man,
He approaches with his brush and canvas,
And tries to capture your beauty
With all its multiple shades and hues.

But when winter comes, and you
Are stripped of all your radiant garments
And deserted by your summer tenants,
Then man passes you by and
Frown upon your naked figure.

But God seeing your plight,
Bedecks you in all his heavenly
Jewels of ice and snow;
Then again you rise once more,
A beautiful daughter of nature,
To be admired by mortals.

Samuel J. Floyd

Class History

It all began in September, 1944, in the midst of chaos and a great world upheaval. September 18, 1944, to be exact, when 381 wide eyed, grassy green freshmen entered the portals of West Virginia State College. The curtain was slowly rising on a new act in our lives. What new responsibilities, adventures and intrigues the future would bring not one of us could truly predict.

We were courageous, however, when we entered the auditorium on that first morning to find that life here would be very different from what many of us had expected. Waiting to greet us were members of the "W" Club. After proper introduction we were informed that there had been a fallacy in our previous social instruction in that we would no longer be referred to as Miss and Mr., but immediately assume the title of Dog and Doggette—our period of indentured servitude had begun. The program outlined for us, until we could prove ourselves worthy citizens, was to be found in "The Student Guide," which was to be purchased in the office of the "Student Council." All freshmen, regardless of race, color, creed or previous condition of servitude, were advised to follow the Guide to the letter.

After due process of time we chose for our executive officers the following persons:

President	Samuel Floyd
Vice-President	Richard Braxton
Secretary	Theda Redd
Treasurer	Virginia Epps
Representative to Women Senate	Cherry Allen

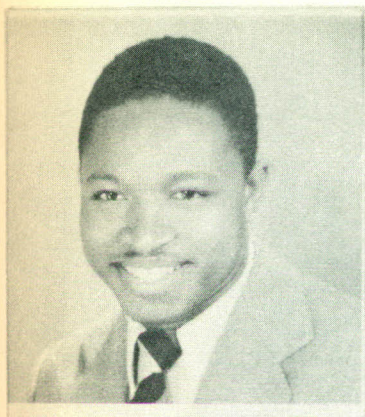

October 25, 1944! What a glorious day! What a red letter landmark for freshmen enthusiasts. Our talent show was ready for presentation. What a gala extravaganza it turned out to be, after which the proverbial bonfire was held with the traditional burning of tags and caps.

We, the freshman class of 1944, were now full-fledged citizens of West Virginia State College.

By September, 1945, many of our classmates were in the armed services because they or their draft boards had decided that Uncle Sam was in need of their talents. This left 206 "Wise Fools" to carry on the activities for the school year.

Because of distinguished leadership ability, the following persons were installed as officers of 1945-1946:

President	Samuel Floyd
Vice-President	Oda Carmichael
Secretary	Betty Burnett
Treasurer	Burdell Lewis
Representative to Women Senate	Myrtle Gentry

Samuel Levi Adams

Class History

We, the wise ones, having acquired in one year all the knowledge possible, had the honor of intimidating the new "Green-horns." They were extended as hearty a welcome into the fold as we had received. With the weaning of the glory of our first initiation we settled down to days of laborious work.

Sophomores to receive distinction for individual scholastic awards were Oda Carmichael, Josephine Freeman, Florence Hazelwood, Shirley Robinson, Pete Smith, Joseph Patterson, Wilmer Marvin, and Alonzo Hayden.

September, 1947! Alas, we were beginning to show the impact of our cultural environment upon our personalities. Dignified Juniors we were called. With the returning servicemen and transfer students we answered roll call 215 strong.

We realized the value of competent officers, therefore, the following persons were elected:

President.....	Calvin Anderson
Vice-President	Alzona J. Davis
Secretary	Florence Hazelwood
Treasurer.....	Berdell Lewis
Representative to Women Senate	Oda Carmichael

Scholastic awards were received by Oda Carmichael, Josephine Freeman, Laura Alexander, and Wilmer Marvin.

The curtain is slowly closing on the last act of our college career. After three years of work and enjoyment the time we have looked forward to is here. Seniors! Seniors! The campus echoes the sound of the word and 242 young ladies and young gentlemen answer to its call.

In keeping with the spirit of the election year, we welcome to office brilliant scholars, forceful leaders, and dynamic personalities. The Seniors' choice:

President	Alzona J. Davis
Vice-President	Edward Douglas
Secretary	Josephine Freeman
Treasurer.....	Burdell Lewis
Representative to Women Senate	Myrtle Gentry
Representative to Men Senate	James Gilreath
Reporter.....	William Wessels

The spirit of the Senior Class of 1948 is an intangible thing. You will find its counterpart in every school in the country.

It is not one specific event. Rather, it is a series of memories—distinctly West Virginia State College memories—memories of incidents and teachers. Some are happy, some tragic. But when they are woven, they are the memories that we tritely label "Cherished."

Short History of the Junior Class

On a balmy day in September of 1945, to be exact it was September 15, a few students began to drift on the campus of West Virginia State College. This was the vanguard of our present Junior Class.

At a popular election, Miss Martha Jean Billups was unanimously chosen to head the "Wild Bunch," the name we soon acquired. Plans were made for the coming year and carried out successfully. They included general campus activities and the Freshman dance.

This Freshman Class will long be remembered for the stand it took concerning probation. There were numerous misunderstandings between the freshmen and upperclassmen with the freshmen finally walking off probation. The upperclassmen in protest went on a mock probation themselves. The differences were finally worked out satisfactorily with the freshmen wearing once again their "dog tags." The year ended with nothing else happening.

The following year the sophomores were among the first to return to school, so they could torment the new freshmen with the same things they had so heatedly objected to themselves.

The class was organized with William Busch selected as President. Some from the previous year did not return and as time passed, they started realizing some of their dreams. The fortunate ones made their respective fraternity or sorority and were welcomed into Greekdom. Exam time found everyone working his hardest to make good grades and the year ended with very little accomplished.

The third or present year found our ranks depleted and the few who returned were under the leadership of Curtis Hall. The wild eyed, impulsive Freshman of '45 had disappeared. Everyone was concerned with "getting out" and making his place in the world. Some gained in dignity; others remained the same and as the year ended our ranks were thinned again. The few still here are looking ahead to the future and wondering!!!

CURTIS HALL

History of the Sophomore Class

We began our college careers here at West Virginia State College in September, 1946. Our start was record-breaking, for we were the largest freshman class in the history of the school. Our number of approximately seven hundred freshmen was increased by a great number of veterans, taking advantage of the "G I Bill of Rights".

As a part of freshman initiation we had to perform lowly tasks of shining shoes, collecting waste paper, and wearing "dog" tags. We learned the Alma Mater and elected class officers before we had been here three days. Our officers were, as follows: Edward Brown, President; Thomas Patterson, Vice-President; Dolly Jones, Secretary; and Barbara Hale, Treasurer.

After Home-coming we tossed our freshman caps in the air, and our "dog" tags became souvenirs. We became integrated into college life and were no longer pointed out or called a "dog" or "doggette." College life then became interesting and adventurous. We pushed forward to achieve a place in scholarship, music, athletics, politics, and every other activity of the school.

This September the freshman class became the present sophomore class. Many faces were missing, for the roster of the original class dwindled from approximately seven hundred students to five hundred and three. This year we, sophomores, rejoiced, for now we could "haze" the freshmen and enjoy other privileges of old students. The officers of the sophomore class are, as follows: Robert B. Elmore, President; Sylvia Galloway, Vice-President; Lucille McAllister, Secretary; Winifred Johnson, Treasurer. The sophomore class collaborated with the present freshman class to sponsor an enjoyable social affair in Fleming Hall.

Today we look forward to a bright future and pledge ourselves to uphold the standards and ideals of our Alma Mater. We sincerely trust that with hard, honest effort and steadfast faith we shall become the upper classmen of tomorrow.

Robert B. Elmore

Lucius A. Blount

The History of the Freshman Class

September 15, 1947, 678 students from all parts of the United States met at 10:00 o'clock in the morning in the main auditorium of the Administration Building for orientation. At this meeting the members of the freshman class were told what would be expected of each member.

The days of registration and examinations were rather hectic ones. September 23rd marked a memorable occasion for the freshmen because they were put on probation. The duties of the freshmen at this probation time were to gather wood for a bonfire, pick up paper, and to do small favors for upperclassmen. Freshmen were not allowed to walk on the grass, or turf, or to visit the Inn after six o'clock in the evening.

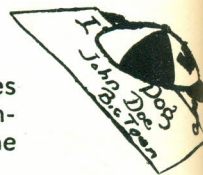

The freshman class officers were elected on the 31st of September. They were, as follows:

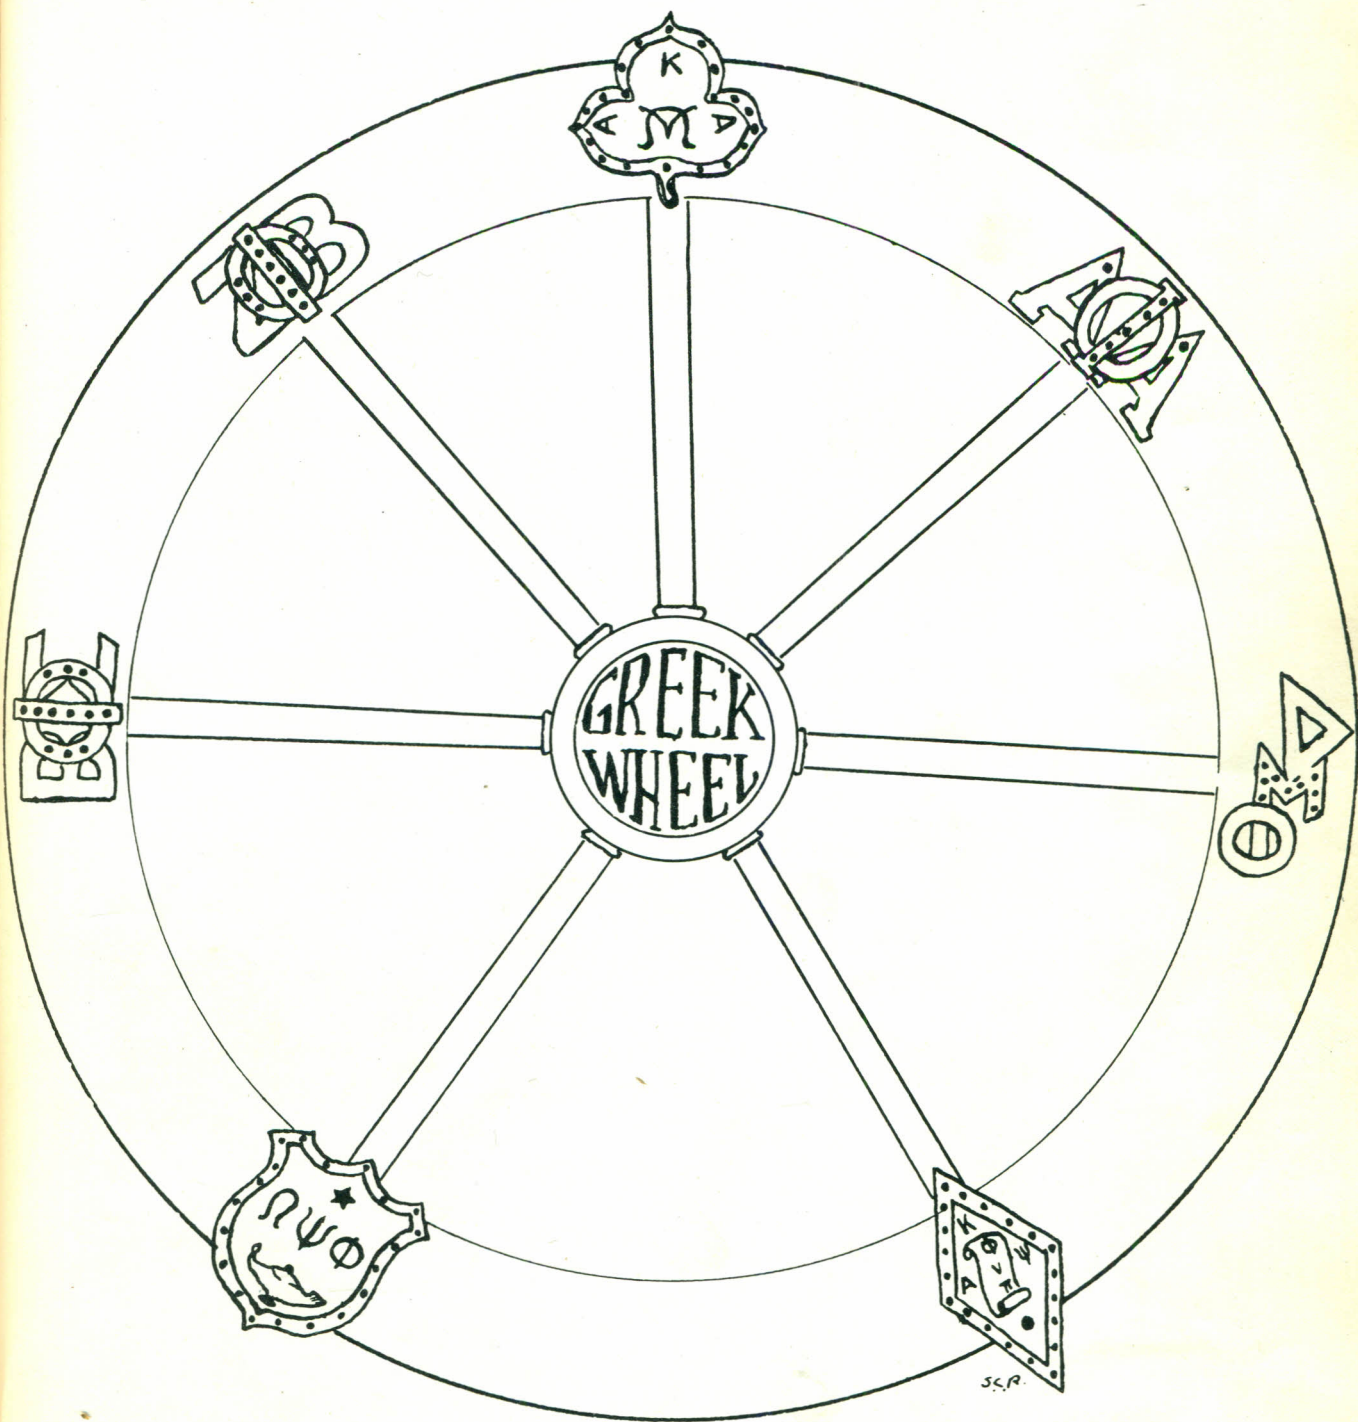

President	Wayne Robertson
Vice-President	Buford Mitchell
Secretary	Elizabeth Moore
Treasurer	William Bush

February 27, 1948, the members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes had a joint party at Fleming Hall.

The freshman class believes that it will bring bigger and better things to West Virginia State College.

Better Light For Better Sight

The old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," applies to many things—one of which is eyesight.

To cure or correct faulty vision is a very expensive process—with doctor's fees, glasses and treatments. With proper lighting you have a good chance of never having trouble with your vision.

Check your lighting. . . . If it is inadequate, improve it!!!! It is less expensive to install good lighting now than to have faulty vision together with medical expenses later.
