VIRGINIA STATE COLLEGE

I am dedicated to . . .

Professor Adolph P. Hamblin

We, the ARCH staff of 1963, are happy to dedicate this year's annual to a man who is loved and respected by all on West Virginia State's campus, Professor Adolph Putman Hamblin, founder of the Dept. of Biology here at West Virginia State College, and at present he is Chairman of the Dept. of Biological Science, Botany, and Zoology.

Professor Hamblin did his undergraduate work at Knox College of Galesburg, Illinois. He played and earned letters in football, basketball, baseball, and track. He made 13 letters in athletics and earned more athletic awards than any athlete in the history of the school. A few of his awards are: Winner of the Hunter Scholarship Trophy, National Collegiate Football Championship in Negro Colleges, National Negro Intercollegiate Football Champions in 1936, plus a host of others. As of February 15, 1963, he was selected as one of the "Sports Greats" of West Virginia by the West Virginia Centennial Commission.

He did graduate work at Ohio State University in 1946 receiving the Master of Science Degree in Botany.

Professor Hamblin is also a charter member of Theta Psi Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

We, the SENIOR class of 1963 say: "Farewell." We shall always remember you as a great professor, bestowing radiance of kindness and consideration to all.

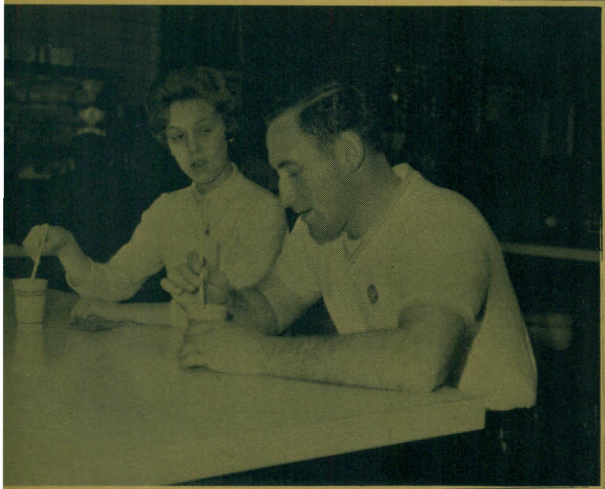

and remembering . . .

WYMAN D. HALL
1940-1962

His name is Wyman D. Hall, from Trenton, N.J., but to those of us who knew and loved him, he was just plain "Juice." He was a son of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, a fullback with the power of a steaming locomotive, and yet he was kind and gentle as a lamb, serving both college and country with distinction and honor.

We all loved "Juice" in our own particular way and we miss him dearly. Though we are sorry that he is no longer with us, we are happy that he is on God's team.

"An Exciting Year"

West Virginia State College has experienced an exciting year. At its very beginning, returning students were informed of the approval received by the college from the American Association of University Women. This approval gave new status to the women of the college and evidenced progress by the college in the direction of eliminating discriminations of all kinds from our campus.

During the course of the year, educational programs were presented which focused attention on the critical issues of our times. Many of us were involved in preparing for a visit by the evaluation team of the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education. These and many other activities should mean that each and every student has advanced intellectually, spiritually and socially.

My congratulations to all those who accepted the challenges of the year.

Dean of Instruction
HARRISON H. FERRELL

To the Graduating Seniors:

As students of West Virginia State College, your campus has been the State of West Virginia.

Now the world becomes your campus. A world where the minds and souls of men are torn between conflicting ideologies. However, man's experience indicates that truth is more powerful than error, sharing is more ideal than saving, giving is more eternal than getting, and love is more invincible than hate.

In these most exciting times, as you swell the number of West Virginia State College graduates found all over the world, I congratulate you upon your unrivaled opportunity for service and leadership.

Sincerely yours,

HARRISON H. FERRELL
DEAN

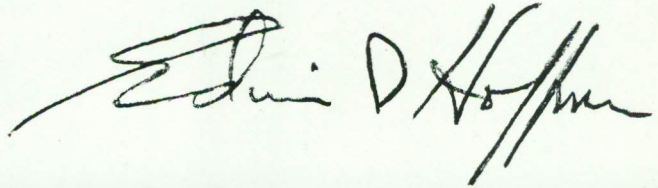

Dean of Instruction
EDWIN HOFFMAN

TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1963:

May I wish you a full and fruitful life, in which the abilities and attitudes developed at "State" will continue to flourish.

As you undoubtedly know, you will be entering a world that needs you urgently for your judgment, your concern and your talents. Most particularly, your fellow man must count on you to be a strong voice for justice, for peace and for brotherhood.

The experiences you have enjoyed at your college have been unique, for no other school in the nation can as truly call itself a "living laboratory in human relations." Be true to the spirit of "State" and America will be proud of you.

When we as freshmen, first see the faculty, they are no more than just people to us. Later, we associate them with things, other people and places. Often we associate them with classes, classrooms, and regrettable grades. We see a faculty member on the campus . . . smiling . . . associating with students . . . cautiously, we decide he must be a little more human than we first thought. As we examine him more closely, we find out that he has a distinct form, features and a distinct personality. Yes, a faculty member is more than we first thought.

Another year brought with it another crop of girls. For many, it was their first time away from home and they had to adjust to a new life. This "New Life" however, proved to be an exciting one as was revealed in their campus participation.

Gore Hall Council

Night lights burned into the late hours of the night for the first time for many of the men in Gore Hall. The day's activities tempted them so much that studying started at midnight. After adjusting to the change, the men contributed much to West Virginia State College environment.

Prillerman Hall Council

Top Row: Melvin Sutton, James Perkins, Doc Long, Mr. Redd (Hall Proctor), Herman Jones, Lewis Proffitt, Jeffrey Bartlett.
Seated: Carl Christy, John Lawyer, Willie Wallace.

Prillerman Hall, the upperclassman dormitory, consists of 120 males. During the course of the year, various activities were planned with the guidance of the Prillerman Hall council.

Leisure time in the boys' dorm was spent in much the same way as in the girls' residence. The television set played at all hours and the telephone was constantly busy.

Hill Hall Council

Lydia Russell, Wilhelmina Bennett, Ann Brothers, May Farris Page (President), Helena Bowes, Michele Johnson.

Hill Hall is a dormitory consisting of 130 women, including sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The girls with the leadership of the hall council have had various activities such as decorating for homecoming and Christmas, presenting two cultural programs, and the highlight of the year—a combined picnic with Prillerman Hall.

The council has worked hard to promote a good relationship between the residents, and as a result has made this a prosperous year.

The Social Committee

Under the leadership of Daniel Dean, the social committee had a successful year. The committee worked closely with the student council to present the many and varied activities we have enjoyed this year.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Lonnie Peek, Lenora Cordell, Aaron Turpeau, Beverly Hill, Samuel Howell, Helena Bowes, James Mahorney, Phyllis Greene, Roger Chalmers.

The Pan-Hellenic Council is a group composed of a representative from each Greek organization. It acts as the legislative body for establishing rules concerning rushing and social functions. The Council encourages high scholarship by offering a trophy to the group with the highest accumulative scholastic average at the end of each year. This year the Council has awarded two additional trophies, one each to the male and female who has the most outstanding academic average.

The 1963 ARCH may well be said to be another outstanding product of West Virginia State College. To be sure the job was no easy one and many hours of fun and hard work is throughout its layout.

This year's ARCH is new in several ways: the seal of the College is being used as a cover design, introducing color for the endsheets, bigger size and other new attractions that have enhanced its beauty. This year's theme is "Quotations."

The ARCH office in the Student Union comes radiantly alive every Wednesday night. There you find the staff members laboring over layouts, sorting pictures, taking pictures, and doing other jobs which have been fun, rewarding, and we hope worthwhile.

Taylor Publishing Company, for the second year, is publisher of the ARCH.

HISTORY: Delta Sigma Theta was founded in 1913 by 22 Howard University undergraduates. These youthful students demonstrated a vital concern for social welfare, academic excellence and cultural enrichment during Delta's first year of existence. They marched down Constitution Avenue in the nation's Capital with other women's groups in an effort to gain suffrage for women. De-emphasizing the social side of sorority life, they demanded high scholastic attainment as a condition for membership and embarked upon an ambitious program of cultural and educational activities. As a result, Delta Sigma Theta is today a public service organization dedicated to a program of sharing membership, skills, and organizational services in the public interest.

HISTORY: The Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded November 17, 1911, at Howard University in Washington, D.C. The founders were three college juniors and a faculty advisor. They were Doctor Oscar J. Cooper of Philadelphia, Reverend Edgar A. Love, Bishop of the A.M.E. Methodist Church, Frank Coleman, and the late Doctor E. E. Just, advisor and Professor of Physics at Howard University.

The founders discovered a large number of capable men willing to help Omega on her way. The next step was to perfect a constitution, for this document was to be submitted to the president of the University, Doctor Wilbur P. Thirkield, for faculty approval.

After many rebukes and adverse decisions, the fraternity finally won approval from the faculty. Having done this the founders sought to expand, being the first Negro fraternity founded at a Negro institution, they planned for the establishment of other chapters. On February 6, 1914, twenty men were initiated into a chapter at Lincoln University, Pa.

The Concert Band

The 1962-63 edition of the Concert Band contributed a great deal to the cultural development here at West Virginia State College. They provided us with many enjoyable evenings; especially their Annual Spring Concert.

Mr. James R. Keadle, our band director, has produced a fine band this year. He is with us due to the absence of Mr. Thompson who is doing further study. Mr. Keadle is also director of the McKinley Jr. High School Band.

This year marks the first time that the West Virginia State "Yellow Jackets" have won the W.V.I.C. Championship. The "Yellow Jackets" missed their chance at the tournament championship by being knocked-out in the first round by Salem State College; but State bounced back to defeat West Virginia Tech two games out of three to earn the trip to Kansas City for the N.A.I.A. playoff.

Editor's Epitaph

Yes, 1962-63 has been one short but wonderful year to me. I can remember the day I arrived to West Virginia State College, making the tedious preparation and adjustments for what I thought was going to be four long years of hard work; but instead they were very short years, nevertheless, affording me all sorts of memorable episodes in my life of which I shall always cherish. I love "State"—her kindness, her ideals, her friendliness, her people—and parting was such a fervent hardship to me.

The 1963 ARCH, I feel, is another outstanding production produced by an ARCH staff. The task was indeed hard, but yet it yielded many worthwhile and rewarding events. I'd like to thank all the many persons responsible for making the ARCH a success, for without your help, direction and generosity, I could not have made this year's annual what I hope is "a great production" to you.

When asked to give my advice to the oncoming editor I can say only this: "It doesn't take a fanatic to get a job done well, but his push and drive, the toil and indefatigable strive for perfection that he possesses are worthwhile assets to have in your corner."

I want to wish all the students of my swell class of 1963 all the good fortune and happiness in the world. I sincerely hope that someday, somewhere along life's long journey we may joyfully meet again as friends.
